

GREEN COLLEGE LEADING SCHOLARS' SERIES CHALLENGING DIFFERENCES

In this series, the 2018-20 cohort of Green College Leading Scholars—all of them recently appointed UBC faculty members—interrogate the ways that difference shapes, mediates and interferes with our experiences of our world. Leading Scholars and their invited guests explore the multi-tiered dynamic processes that contrast, distinguish and separate persons, places, information and things. Their presentations contest the social and technocratic processes used to construct or construe separatedness, and show how challenging differences can propel us to imagine a better future.

ALL TALKS ARE AT GREEN COLLEGE IN THE COACH HOUSE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC WITHOUT CHARGE
